

MISSION STATEMENT

At Newbury Hall our mission is to enable the following:

- Future integration into the academic, social and sporting life of an independent school

Our aim is to provide students with effective support and guidance to ensure a smooth transition into independent school education.

- Independence of thought and learning

Our students have lively, enquiring minds, capable of critical and reflective thinking. We instil them with a thirst for knowledge allowing them to become independent, lifelong learners.

- Educational and personal development

Our students develop principles, are open-minded and care about those around them and the wider world. They display awareness and empathy on a local and international scale. They are responsible, resilient and happy.

- Confidence in performance and language

Our students are eloquent communicators with the confidence to take risks. They welcome challenge and engagement at every available opportunity.

- Collaboration across cultures

Our students have an international, cosmopolitan sophistication, with an appreciation, respect and understanding of different cultures that allows them to have a balanced view of the world. That ensures they enter a highly-competitive multi-lingual, multi-cultural and multi-national workplace and can make a positive contribution.

- The importance of internationalism in society

Our students recognise they have a key role in the internationalism that now links countries and cultures together. The balanced, knowledgeable, culturally aware approach that they are able to adopt means they are well-prepared for successful lives in an ever-changing world.
